Bruker Daltonics is a leading global developer and manufacturer of innovative scientific instruments that address the rapidly evolving needs of a diverse array of life sciences customers. Our mass spectrometry-based tools serve the pharmaceutical, biotechnology, molecular diagnostics research and chemical analysis industries. Bruker's analytical instruments deliver exceptional high-resolution results for pre-clinical and clinical testing. Research institutes, universities and government agencies routinely turn to Bruker for systems that address real world needs.

Neo-Science & Group enables the GCC Life Science Scientific community to access and fully utilize cutting edge technologies in Molecular Biology Research and Diagnostics.
